

Urology conducts annual master class for PGs

The Department of Urology recently conducted the sixth annual master class for postgraduates, at the exam hall in Bagayam campus. There were a total of 135 final year postgraduates from all over the country. Eleven faculty from various premier centres participated in this extremely popular and highly regarded teaching programme. Intramural faculty from other departments enriched the programme with their input.

