Dengue Awareness Week - 2024

Dengue fever is a mosquito-borne viral infection caused by the dengue virus, which is primarily transmitted by the Aedes Aegypti mosquito. Especially during the monsoon season with increase in the population of mosquitos, this infection is of great public concern. Though treatment is usually supportive care, prevention of this infection is of utmost importance. The hospital Infection control committee under the agies of the Medical Superintendent's office along with the environmental engineering department organised an awareness programme from 25th to 28th September 2024, in CMC Town Campus, to sensitise the healthcare workers, patients' visitors and surrounding community, highlighting measures to prevent dengue infection. The inaugural programme held on 25th September 2024, commenced with a worship song by the infection control nurses and prayer by Senior Chaplain Miss Saramma Kuruvilla. Mrs. Sophia Vijayanathan, Deputy Nursing Superintendent and Additional Joint Secretary HIC, welcomed the dignitaries and addressed the gathering.

Felicitations were offered by Dr. Vikram Mathews, Director, who, emphasised the importance of dengue prevention within the institution and congratulated the Hospital Infection Control (HIC) for taking the initiative to organise the campaign. Dr. I Rajesh Medical Superintendent and Chairman HIC, highlighted the fact that though mosquitoes are tiny organisms, they possess the potential to harm humans with a single bite. He stressed the importance of identifying and controlling mosquito breeding sites both within the institution and in the surrounding community. He also praised the Department of Environmental Engineering for their significant efforts in identifying and eliminating water stagnation throughout the institution. Mrs. Sophia Vijayanathan, Deputy Nursing Superintendent, emphasised on the mosquito control measures implemented in clinical areas where patients are present, ensuring a safe environment for all.

Mr. Anand Samuel, Associate General Superintendent announced the formation of a special mosquito control task force, which has scheduled visits to clinical areas to identify and address water stagnation. The task force will also conduct immediate spraying of mosquito repellents, both internally and externally, across the institution. Vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Sharon Dilip, Asst. Professor and Infection Control Officer.

During the four-day period, awareness about the infection and preventive measures were highlighted through informative posters and handouts, educational videos, puppet shows and interactives games. The environment engineering stall highlighted the mosquito breeding and larva elimination measures in place within the hospital premises, and in the residential campuses to ensure safe environment.

SHILOH 2024

Shiloh 2024, the annual students' mission conference, was held from 26th to 29th of September at the Scudder Auditorium in CMC Vellore in association with EMFI, TLM, CMAI and EHA. The conference brought together more than 1500 medical students, healthcare professionals, missionaries, and Christian leaders from diverse walks of life. The theme, Stand Firm was inspired by 1 Corinthians 15:58, emphasising the need for steadfastness in faith and perseverance in service to God, especially in times of uncertainty and challenge. Celebrating its 17th year, Shiloh 2024 aimed to deepen the participants' understanding of their calling, mission work, and the importance of being immovable in their faith. Over the course of four days, attendees were immersed in plenary sessions, life sessions, group discussions, and mission presentations that encouraged reflection and action.

Plenary Sessions

Shiloh 2024 featured a range of plenary sessions led by prominent speakers. Varghese Philip, a pioneer in medical missions and Ashish Raichur, pastor of All Peoples Church, delivered keynote addresses focusing on the need for steadfast faith, especially in the healthcare sector. They stressed the importance of perseverance in faith through trials, finding purpose in the work entrusted to them by God and to remain firm in their calling. The John Scudder Oration, a highlight of the conference, which celebrates the life and legacy of Dr. John Scudder I, the first medical missionary from the United States to India, was delivered by Dr. Chandramathi Asirvatham, the first lady paediatric surgeon in the country who worked in CSI Kalyani and Rainy hospitals. Her oration has inspired multiple students.

Life Sessions (Breakout Sessions)

Various life sessions addressed real-life challenges and provided biblical solutions for daily Christian living. These sessions exhorted the students to 1. Stand Firm in the Call (Blessy and Prabhu) who spoke from their experience in Raxaul, Bihar on how to embrace God's call and remain steadfast despite life's distractions. 2. Standing Firm through Temptations (Barney Isaac) provided practical strategies to resist temptation by relying on God's strength. 3. Stewardship of Time, Talent, and Treasure (James Varghese) offered insights into managing resources effectively, aligning personal goals with God's plan. 4. Single/Are You Ready to Mingle? (Varghese Chacko and Bella Varghese) gave biblical guidance on singleness, relationships, and waiting for God's timing in marriage. 5. FAQs of Christian Faith-Mr. Neil Vimalkumar a seasoned apologetics expert spoke on the various questions we have regarding Christian faith.

Mission Presentations

The mission presentations featured the work of various professionals serving in different parts of India. Augustine, a cardiologist and Medical Superintendent, from Sewa Bhawan Hospital in Chhattisgarh, Salik Khan, a clinical Optometrist serving at Ruby Nelson Memorial Hospital in Punjab, Eileen Lalrinpuui, Medical Director at Aizawl Adventist Hospital, shared various perspectives of serving in Mission hospitals. Finney Premkumar, founder of Truth Matters International, Spurgeon, CEO of Bangalore Baptist Hospital and James Varghese, a retired IAS officer gave perspectives on the intersection of technology and modern missions, Urban Missions, how to show faith in the corridors of power respectively.

Networking and Collaboration

The conference facilitated meaningful networking opportunities through group discussions, breakout sessions, and free time with mission leaders. Attendees connected with healthcare professionals and missionaries, fostering a spirit of collaboration for future projects in medical missions. Shiloh also included a well-organized blood donation camp arranged by the Blood Bank unit and saw a very good response.

PG Shiloh

This year's PG Shiloh was held in the Paul Brand Building, specifically designed to accommodate postgraduates with busy schedules. 120 postgraduate trainees gathered for a Sunday afternoon session, enjoying lunch followed by deep discussions on the mission call in healthcare.

The sessions were led by esteemed faculty members, including Deepak S. Singh, a paediatric surgeon and the Managing Director of Chinchpada Christian Hospital, who shared his experiences in transforming a near-shut-down hospital into a thriving mission facility, Jasmine Susan Koshy, an experienced nursing professional and former Principal & Nursing Superintendent at Makunda Christian Leprosy Hospital, who emphasised the importance of nurturing the next generation of healthcare workers and Swetha Naveen, a consultant in child and adolescent psychiatry at CMC Vellore, shared her practical tips from her PG journey. The PG Shiloh sessions were designed to encourage postgraduate students to reflect on their calling, equipping them with useful insights for mission-oriented careers in healthcare.

Worship and Fellowship

Worship played a significant role in the conference, with dedicated sessions led by Ebenezer Premkumar. Participants joined in communal singing and hymns, creating an atmosphere of praise and reflection. The evening worship nights were especially impactful, allowing individuals to come together in prayer and reflection on their spiritual journeys.

Conclusion

Shiloh 2024, by God's grace was a resounding success, offering attendees a space to renew their commitment, deepen their understanding of their call, and gain practical insights into living a life of missional impact. Through the various sessions described, Shiloh 2024 equipped its participants to stand firm in their faith and pursue God's calling with unwavering dedication.

The organising team, led by Jachin Velavan, Associate Director (Missions), Katti Blessi Sara, Shiloh Coordinator, along with the co-coordinators Jackwin, Roselin, Priya Ranjani and Jasper and many faculty and student volunteers, ensured that Shiloh 2024 was both spiritually enriching and practically relevant. We are grateful to God for the large team of volunteers both staff and students for their enthusiastic involvement who passionately took up various responsibilities willingly, our partners for their continued support throughout the planning and organising, various departments, alumni and well-wishers for their support and prayers. The legacy of past conferences continues to thrive, as Shiloh remains a transformative event for Christian students and professionals alike. We ascribe all glory to God for a successful Shiloh 2024.
