Whoever gives heed to instruction prospers, and blessed is the one who trusts in the Lord. Proverbs 16:20

Mr. K. Nelson Nithiakumar Retires

Mr. K. Nelson Nithiakumar's remarkable journey at CMC Vellore stands as a testament to his dedication and passion. Starting as a Librarian, he worked 13 years in the Department of Library before following his lifelong interest in horticulture; till his retirement on 26th May, 2025. With a degree in Botany, his selection as Estate Manager in 2007 was a natural progression, allowing him to apply his deep knowledge of plants and landscaping to transform CMC's campuses. Over 18 years in his role as Estate Manager, he made a lasting impact on the institution, shaping its green spaces and ensuring their sustainability.

His impact on CMC's landscapes is truly outstanding! As Estate Manager, his leadership in maintaining the Town Campus gardens ensured a vibrant and welcoming environment for all. Beyond that, his contributions to the landscaping of CMC Ranipet Campus, working alongside Mrs. Jenny Thomas from CMC Bagayam, highlight his collaborative spirit and dedication to enhancing multiple campuses.

His vision extended far beyond simple maintenance—he helped shape outdoor spaces into places of beauty and sustainability. The greenery and carefully designed landscapes he cultivated will serve as a lasting tribute to his expertise and unwavering commitment.

His transformative work truly speaks for itself! Eden Garden in Bagayam Campus is a remarkable example of turning an unused solid waste yard into a thriving green space, showcasing his vision and expertise. Each of the gardens he developed—whether at the Oval Ground, Men's Hostel, Amphi Theatre, CMC Kagithapattarai Campus, or CMC Chittoor CON Campus—stands as a testament to his meticulous planning and collaboration with his team and the Engineering Departments. These projects have not only beautified the campuses but also contributed to a healthier and more sustainable environment for the institution.

His meticulous work on gardens across multiple campuses and his initiative to plant over 2000 saplings is a testament to his commitment to nature and environmental conservation.

Developing the Department's own nursery and repurposing in-house materials for landscaping projects show his ingenuity and commitment to sustainability. Not only did he enhance the greenery of CMC's campuses, but he also ensured cost-effective solutions that benefited the institution in the long run.

The garden project behind ABC Block, transforming the demolished site of Shanthi Illam into a beautiful green space, is yet another testament to his expertise and vision. His ability to work with available resources without unnecessary expenditures speaks volumes about his practical approach and deep respect for the institution's values.

Beyond his professional achievements, his values—punctuality, faith, and camaraderie—show how deeply he cared for his colleagues and his workplace.

His passion for horticulture has evidently left a lasting impact on CMC's campuses, transforming spaces into thriving green landscapes. His legacy is firmly rooted in every tree, every garden, and every flourishing green space he nurtured! His wife Mrs. Aruna is a Government English Teacher by Profession. CMC's gratitude towards him and his family is well deserved. Wishing him a peaceful and fulfilling retirement!

College Day 2025-College of Nursing

Faculty, staff, and students of the College of Nursing celebrated College Day on 7th June 2025, on the theme “ARETA,” derived from the Greek word meaning “excellence” or “virtue,” inviting people to live life to the fullest. The day commenced with the hoisting of the College flag at the College of Nursing, KPTR Campus. During the entertainment session, the theme was presented through songs, skits, mimes and dances. Dr. Geetha Manivasagam, Professor and Dean, School of Healthcare Science and Engineering, Vellore Institute of Technology, Vellore, was the chief guest for the occasion. She, in her inaugural address, highlighted the journey of testimony by the founder Dr. Ida Sophia Scudder, and spoke of the salient features of the nursing profession. She highlighted the importance of engineering in the field of health science and proposed a potential research collaboration between the colleges in improving patient care outcomes. Dr. Barney Isaac, Deputy Director and Mrs. Alice Sony, Nursing Superintendent, offered their felicitations.

The annual magazine of the college, “Dimensions”, capturing the diverse range of ideas, was released during the event. The meritorious awards and prizes in the field of academics, social activities, entertainment and sports were distributed to the students by the chief guest. The day ended with a fun filled entertainment programme showcasing the talent, enthusiasm and energy of the faculty and the students. The College Day celebration was a true reflection of honor and praise to God for all His bountiful blessings.

First-ever Masterclass-‘Gerimaster’ Organised

The Department of Geriatrics, CMC Vellore, under the aegis of the Indian Academy of Geriatrics (IAG), successfully conducted the first-ever PG Masterclass - GERIMASTER from 5th to 7th June, 2025. This academic initiative brought together seventy postgraduate students and practitioners for an intensive and enriching learning experience in the ever-evolving field of geriatrics.

The stage was lit up for the inaugural session with inspiring talks by Dr. Vikram Mathews, Director and Dr. Rajesh. I. Medical Superintendent. This was followed by a welcome address by Dr. Prasad Mathews, the first Head of the Department of Geriatrics. The tone was set for the Masterclass by an inspiring speech by Prof. Alka Ganesh, mentor to many of the Professors in Geriatrics at CMC Vellore. The sessions covered a wide array of topics, from the foundations of multidisciplinary team-based approaches to practical skills like interpretation of ECG, pulmonary function tests (PFT), and arterial blood gas (ABG) analysis. Discussions also delved into rational drug prescribing, how to read a journal and research methodology.

The highlight of the event was the hands-on clinics, which allowed participants to apply theoretical knowledge directly to real-world clinical scenarios under expert supervision. Specialists from pulmonary medicine, cardiology, urology, and neurology presented recent advances in their respective fields. These sessions were thoughtfully moderated by geriatricians, who guided discussions on tailoring these advances to the unique needs of patients with multiple comorbidities and complex medication regimens. The masterclass was followed by a CME, which provided opportunities for luminaries in the field of law and palliative care to share their knowledge and experiences. Bone health and geriatric oncology were also dealt with effectively. Their contributions elevated the academic discourse and provided attendees with unique perspectives rooted in decades of experience. The participants left not only with knowledge but also with renewed compassion and conviction to serve older adults with dignity and excellence.

The postgraduate quiz was a highlight of GERIMASTER, with all participants enthusiastically competing for the prize. An alumni meeting was also incorporated into the programme. This inaugural gathering provided an opportunity for alumni to reconnect and share camaraderie as they reflected on more than a decade of shared memories. The event concluded with a gala dinner, attended by all participants.

World Environment Day Programme Celebrated at Ranipet Campus

The 'World Environmental Day' was celebrated by GS office and Environmental Engineering Department on 5th June, 2025 in CMC Ranipet campus. The theme for this year was "Ending Plastic Pollution Globally". The celebration began with a prayer by Rev. Ebenezer at the CMC Ranipet campus, followed by a song by the GS Office team. Thiru. J. Raja, Forest Range Officer and Forest Conservation Team Leader for Ranipet District, graced the occasion as the chief guest. Mr. Caleb, Associate Superintendent Engineer of the Environmental Engineering Department, led the programme, following which Mr. Ramesh, Officer, Ranipet campus, addressed the gathering. The gathering was addressed by Dr. Deepak Selvaraj, Associate Director, Ranipet campus, Dr. Anu Korula, Professor of Hematology and Dr. Lallu Joseph, Associate General Superintendent, Ranipet Campus. As part of the event, various competitions (slogan, poster and meme) were conducted. The main highlight of the day was the video telecast featuring the 'sustainable steps' towards ending plastic usage in the institution (A way forward), followed by a pledge taken by all attendees to combat plastic pollution on the occasion of World Environment Day. The celebrations concluded with the inauguration of stalls, reinforcing the commitment to environmental conservation.

World Food Safety Day 2025

“Whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God” – 1 Corinthians 10:31

Cultivating Change: Choosing Health Over Habit for a Safer Tomorrow

On 7th June 2025, in observance of World Food Safety Day, the Food & Beverages Section of the GS Office, under the leadership of Mr. Reni Charles, General Superintendent, organised a series of impactful programmes across the CMC Town Campus, guided by the motto: “Say No to Junk, Yes to Healthy Choices.”

“Say No to Junk, Yes to Healthy Choices” – A CMC Community Pledge

The gathering began with a word of prayer by Ms. Priscilla, Asst. Chaplain. Mr. Anand John Samuel, Associate General Superintendent, Mr. Dinesh, Deputy General Superintendent, and Mr. Caleb, Associate Superintendent Engineer, graced the occasion with their presence. During his address, Mr. Anand John Samuel commended the unwavering efforts of the Food & Beverages team for their dedication in advancing food safety awareness and promoting healthy practices across the CMC community. A highlight of the day was the moving speech by Mr. Manuel Inbam, MBBS student and winner of the elocution competition, who captivated the audience with his award-winning presentation on Food Safety and Healthy Eating, leaving a lasting impression on all present. The programme emphasised the integration of scientific knowledge into practical lifestyle choices—especially vital within healthcare institutions, where nutrition and wellness are foundational to both personal and professional care. To further extend the reach of World Food Safety Day, awareness stalls were set up across the campus focusing on food safety, healthy eating, and science-backed nutritional tips. Interactive games conducted by the Hospital Management Studies & Staff Training Department and the Dietetics Department offered engaging learning experiences for all age groups.

Knowledge That Heals: Empowering Through Expert Voices

A hybrid educational seminar series was held from 11th to 13th June, 2025, offering an enriching blend of scientific insight, practical wisdom, and community-driven motivation. This dynamic three-day event was designed to educate, empower, and inspire participants to rethink the way they approach food, nutrition, and health within the CMC community. The series began with “Food as Medicine: Eating Your Way Out of Chronic Illness” by Dr. Samuel George Hansdak, Professor & Head, Lifestyle Medicine, followed by “The 3 C’s in Understanding Obesity: Cognisance, Causes, Consequences” by Dr. Nitin Kapoor, Professor & Head (Unit 1), Endocrinology. Both speakers emphasised how lifestyle changes—particularly dietary habits—can be powerful tools in preventing and reversing chronic conditions. Day two focused on healing and gut wellness. Dr. Henry Prakash, Professor & Head, PMR, spoke on “Fuelling Recovery: The Role of Nutrition in Healing and Physical Performance,” highlighting how food choices can directly impact recovery and strength.

This was followed by Dr. Noble Varghese Mathews, Assistant Professor, Gastroenterology, who presented “Diet and Gut Health: The Key Connection,” shedding light on the essential relationship between diet and digestive health. The final day featured Mrs. B. Manimegalai, in charge, Dietetics, who delivered an insightful session on “My Plate: Hidden Treasure of Nutrition,” helping participants understand the importance of balanced meals and mindful eating. The series concluded with Dr. Srinivasa Raghavan, Associate Professor, Developmental Paediatrics, who presented “The Future on Their Fork: Creating a Safe Food Culture for Healthy Child Growth,” stressing the importance of shaping children’s food environments for long-term health. Together, these sessions sparked meaningful conversations, ignited self-reflection, and inspired a collective resolve to prioritise safe, nutritious, and conscious food choices, resonating powerfully with this year’s CMC motto: “Say No to Junk, Yes to Healthy Choices.”

Competitions with a Mission

On 4th June, 2025, ahead of the main World Food Safety Day celebration, a series of competitions (elocution, handmade poster, digital poster, and video) were organised to engage the CMC community in creative advocacy for food safety and wellness. Each competition focused on a compelling, thought-provoking theme aimed at challenging perceptions and inspiring change.

- Poster Competition Topic : “Say No to Junk, Say Yes to Real Health”
- Elocution Competition Topic : “Junk Food: A Silent Killer – How Food Safety Science Exposes the Truth Behind Its Harm”.

The Journey Ahead: From Awareness to Elimination

World Food Safety Day 2025 at CMC was more than a celebration—it was a shared declaration. A declaration to honour the science behind safe nutrition, to say no to junk, and to choose health at every opportunity. Participants across the CMC community expressed their insights and convictions through speech, design, and digital storytelling—emphasising the power of informed food choices, the dangers of processed eating, and the healing impact of science-backed nutrition. Through education, creativity, and collaboration, we stand united in nurturing a future that is safer, stronger, and more wholesome for all.

PTP Challenge – The Gift of Sight!

This month, our Department of Ophthalmology has launched the Ophthal Fundraiser for PTP. Last year, over 900 ophthal patients benefited through PTP, mostly by Community Ophthalmology Services. Through their work, vision is restored and lives are renewed. Our Ophthal team aim to support 100 more patients by raising ₹10 lakh for PTP. They are successfully turning vision into reality—11% of their goal is already achieved!

When 83-yr-old Ambika amma came to RUHSA, she was battling fragile health, deteriorating vision and low finances - and only had a daughter to lean on. CMC was her last resort and her only hope. With a referral from the eye clinic at RUHSA to the Dept of Ophthalmology at Schell Campus, a cataract surgery was performed on Ambika amma and her vision was restored - at zero cost – thanks to PTP champions.

You can help deserving patients like Ambika amma by sharing this PTP Challenge link with your networks and contacts too or joining PTP today on CMC's Official Giving page <https://bit.ly/supportPTP>. Thank you for bridging the gap and making a difference in the lives of CMC's patients.
